CONGRESSIONAL MATTERS IN WASHINGTON

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress,
Seventh Ohio District

According to experts, the next ninety days will be the most vital and important in modern history; for the outcome of the world-wide struggle in which we are now engaged will depend upon what occurs during that period. Some of the questions the experts are now pondering, and to which only time can give the answers, are these: Will the Axis armies be able to stop the Russian advances and counter-attack with a great Spring offensive, as has been predicted? Can the Axis forces drive through the Caucasus, or through Turkey or Suez, so as to reach needed oil supplies and join the Japanese in India? Can the Axis powers drive the British from the Mediterranean area and Northern Africa? Will the French fleet be turned over to Hitler for use in an attempt to control the Atlantic? Will Germany obtain French bases at Dakar and elsewhere in Africa? Will France, capable of putting a well-trained and equipped army of two million men in the field, enter the war on the side of the Axis? Can Japan continue her victorious drive across Burma and on into India, thus cutting off China from outside aid while striking at the very heart of the British colonial empire? Will Australia and New Zealand fall before the attack of Japanese forces? The experts tell us that if the answers are in the affirmative, then Great Britain and America will in all probability lose the war, even though the struggle goes on to the bitter end. However, if even a portion of the answers are in the negative, then eventual victory will be ours. If the Russians can continue their series of victories of the past three months, and Germany is given no opportunity to launch a successful counter offensive, then the defeat of the Axis on the continent is a foregone conclusion and Russia will become the great European power of modern times. Once Germany is defeated, all attention can be turned toward Japan, and the downfall of that nation will be but a matter of time.

The growing tension in our relationships with Vichy France is causing grave concern here. Many officials high in American war councils would not be surprised at any time to hear that the French fleet and African bases have been turned over to the Axis. It is even possible that France may join in the war against the United Nations. Axis control of the great French fleet and of sea bases in the African coast would create a most serious situation, and the United States and Great Britain would be forced to fight an all out naval war in the Atlantic in order to maintain present supply lines to the British Isles, Russia and Africa.

Many believe that this war may actually be won or lost in the work-shops and industrial plants of the United States during the next few months. If those serving on the home front can produce the planes and the ships, the guns and munitions, so badly needed to give the United Nations superiority in the air and on the sea before our enemies can join forces or consolidate their gains already made, then victory will be ours. Donald Nelson, War Production Chief, has well said that every fighting plane we produce now will be worth ten such planes produced next year; and that every plane and gun, and every bomb and shell, sent against the enemy now will mean the saving of numerous American lives later on.

Monday, March 16th, is the dead line for filing income tax returns. As pointed out in this column last October, when the bill fixing present tax rates was enacted by the Congress, taxes on 1941 incomes will be found much higher than those of previous years. However, the taxes being paid this year are but the beginning. Already the Ways and Means Committee is at work drafting a new tax bill. Last week Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau appeared before the committee and asked for tax increases to total approximately nine billion dollars annually. Under the Morgenthau proposals, taxes on incomes up to twenty thousand dollars will be doubled next year. Taxes on higher bracket incomes will not be increased so heavily, simply because such incomes are already paying exceptionally high rates. Corporation taxes will be greatly increased, while present excise levies will become much heavier, and new levies will be placed on many articles now untaxed. There is considerable sentiment in the Congress for a national sales tax; but the Ad-

Cedarville College Offers Summer School

Cedarville College officials announced important plans today to cooperate fully with the U. S. Office of Education to make year-round use of college facilities to train men and women as quickly as possible. This will enable many men to complete college courses before draft age.

A serious shortage of qualified public school teachers was emphasized by President Walter S. Kilpatrick in announcing plans for Cedarville College's summer school and for the forty-ninth college year, which will open in the fall.

Students entering this summer can expect to graduate by June, 1945, by attending classes the year round. Summer school attendance will enable a student to earn a college degree in three years or less rather than four, he said. President Kilpatrick pointed out that year-round instruction is no novelty for Cedarville College, since summer school has been operated for many years. However, the entire program of instruction has been revised for this summer and next fall to accommodate all classes of students.

Cedarville College is cooperating with the Ohio Department of Education in training elementary teachers in a minimum of time. Properly qualified students entering this summer can expect to receive a temporary certificate from the State Department by the fall of 1943. Local school children will be enrolled in a summer training school to make practice teaching available.

Two sessions of the Cedarville summer school will be held, from June 15-July 18, and July 20-August 22. Saturday classes permit the work of an ordinary six-week term to be completed in five weeks, granting additional vacation time to public school teachers enrolled in summer school and to undergraduate students who plan to attend both summer and winter.

Work will be offered in all regular Cedarville College departments, with both permanent members of the staff and guest professors. Regular dormitory and recreation facilities will be available to students of the summer sessions.

Bicycle Riders Must Beware

Now that the bicycle is becoming more of a necessity and boys and girls find in it a source of pleasure there must be more caution about riding the streets day or night.

The automobile driver has his rights as well as the bicycle rider, both should exercise caution.

It must be remembered riding on sidewalks is not permitted under ordinance. The state law requires a light on each bicycle at night, the same being required of other vehicles as well as automobiles. Take notice.

Neil Hartman To Address Brotherhood

NEIL HARTMAN

Neil Hartman, science instructor of the St. Mary's Ohio high school, is to address the Methodist men and their families of two counties, Greene and Fayette, at Cedarville in the local Methodist Church, March 16, 7:45 p. m.

The event is sponsored by the Greene-Fayette Brotherhood. Mr. Hartman, a Cedarville College graduate of last May, spent the summer in Mexico as a member of the Friends Service Commission which aided in the reconstruction work following an earthquake in the Tuxpan area, a plateau 600 miles south of Mexico City.

U. S. officials looked upon the work of the commission with much favor as an important factor in cementing closer relationship between Mexico and this country.

The meeting is open to the general public. The speaker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hartman, local residents.

H. D. Vayhinger Speaks Before Club

The establishment of a new bank in Cedarville loomed as a possibility, as Charles Townsend, President of the Cedarville Progressive Club announced that he is appealing a special committee to look into the feasibility of the project.

The plan was brought before the club at their regular monthly meeting Monday night and met with the wholehearted support of the members.

Cedarville has been without a local bank since 1932; when the local institution failed. Previous to that time the town enjoyed local banking facilities for over 60 years.

H. D. Vayhinger, speaking before the club informed the members that the college will offer to cooperate with the new plan that is opening; by making student help available on a part-time basis.

Mr. Vayhinger is an interesting speaker and he'll be the complete attention of the members. He stressed the importance of "togetherness" and unanimity in the club's organization, and pointed out that many civic projects could be carried to a successful conclusion by the members working together.

The club endorsed the college plan for their $100,000 expansion project which will include a 200 acre student operated farm.

Many Visitors To Mayor's Court

There was unusual activity in Mayor's Court Monday when a number of cases were up for consideration, the most serious being driving while intoxicated. Two boys under age were turned over to Juvenile Court, Xenia.

Eugene Donshey and Harold Miller entered pleas of guilty on disorderly charges for fighting Sunday evening on Main St. Each were fined $10 and costs.

Bernard Pansy, driver for Allied Truck Co., Cleveland, was taken from a huge heavily loaded truck on 7th street in an intoxicated condition. He truck narrowly escaped hitting several parked cars. He was held until late Monday evening to sober up when he entered a plea of guilty of driving while intoxicated. In as much as the truck was loaded with perishable goods, the company management asked that he be permitted to continue the trip and that the fine of $50 and costs would be guaranteed and paid by the firm.

Art Kenna faced a driving while intoxicated charge and plead guilty. He hit a truck belonging to a Mr. Barnett, Xenia. He agreed to pay the damage and his driving license was revoked for thirty days.

Court House Scraps New-Old Elevator

The county commissioners last week had the elevator in the courthouse removed to be sold as junk as it was not in use and had not been used but a few months following the erection of the building some forty years ago. The elevator was operated by water-power and proved to be expensive. Electric power not being in general use at those days. The junk weighed nearly five tons and brought $78.50. The space has been floored and will be used for storage purposes.

Henderson Calls Hog Prices

The New Deal Price Fixer, Leon Henderson, hog-fied the Springfield farmer and hog feeder March 17, in placing a ceiling on pork prices which means about $11.35 in the local market. The wholesale price is frozen with no reflects on hog market prices. The farmer is not to enjoy war-time profits with business and labor. The price of hogs during the war was $22.50 in the local market. Henderson is making good his promise to organize labor. He would be an increase in the cost of living, if it were not for the war.

No Sugar Charged To AAA Program

The islands of the Southeastern seas are at present loaded with refined sugar ready for shipment. Soil and climatic conditions make crops certain the year round. Even in Florida and Louisiana sugar cane is being harvested and in thirty days will be ready for market.

Meantime the American home is to be placed under sugar rationing, a few ounces per inhabitant each week. You have been told the attack of Japan is responsible but the amount of sugar produced in the Philippines is small compared with other sections of the country. Mexico has a heavy increase in sugar tonnage.

In this country to create a plan of scarcity the New Deal forced cane and sugar growers to reduce their acreage both beet and cane under the reduced plan would not permit even a second year family in the country. While the New Deal said American sugar growers not to grow and produce sugar we had a form of free trade inaugurated to take so much sugar from other countries.

Any other story as to sugar shortage can be traced only to the AAA shortage program. News dispatches this week state that Secretary Wickard will "recommend" to FDR that he suspend the import quotas on sugar. On American possessions in the West Indies where sugar cane grows like weeds our own Agricultural department under Wickard banned sugar and cane growers were forced to burn the cane.

Your right to sugar is now soon to become a reality in the penalty for the part you have had in supporting the AAA as a farmer and for not registering your protest if you are but a consumer, not entitled to financial benefits.

WILL COUNTY COMMITTEE LET CONSCIENCE PREVAIL?

One of our farm subscribers called by phone Tuesday evening to inquire whether those who preach and those who support the AAA program are in accord with the price ceiling on pork announced by Price Fixer Commissioner Henderson. This farmer wants to inquire of members of the county AAA Committee whether their consciences prick them for taking the present inflation price on pork, which in the eyes of Roosevelt, Wallace and Wickard is an injustice to the nation. Our farmer friend has more to worry about than the ceiling price on pork. He should look out for the sheep in the woodland he has price. Hogs Tuesday reached $14 in some markets.

Eleanor Parker New Picture Star For Warner Bros.

The Cleveland Film Dealer shows an account of the success of Eleanor Parker, Warner's daughter of Andrew D. Parker, that city, formerly superintendent of the Cedarville Public Schools, as a star in motion pictures under Warner Bros. production.

Miss Parker had been prominent in amateur dramatics and was prominent in the Cleveland Play House.

She had been at the Pasadena Play House, Calif., for more than a year when a Warner talent scout offered her a screen test. It was less than a year ago that she was getting her second test.

Miss Parker recently completed "Soldiers in White," for Warner. Tucker is soon to begin work on "Scotland Yard." He has also been featured in "Honolulu Lou," "Canal Zone," and others. Tucker's home is in Arlington, Va., and has been prominent in athletic circles.

Secretary of State Breaks Tie Vote

Secretary of State, head of the election machinery in the state, cast a vote for the Democratic choice for clerk of the election board, Monday, due to a tie vote between the two Democrats and two Republicans on the board. The Republicans voted for Attorney W. B. McWhorter, who has been clerk for two years. The new clerk will be H. W. Bagley of Spring Valley. Nine other counties in the state had tie votes, Secretary voting for the Democratic candidates in each case. Under the law the clerk must be of the same political party as the Secretary of State. J. E. Long, Rep. Ross Twp., oldest Republican member of the board will become chairman, succeeding Judge George H. Smith.

Former Resident Died In Dayton

Andrew McIntire, 68, died Saturday afternoon at the Veterans' Hospital in Dayton, where he had been a patient for two weeks. He had been ill in a Veterans' Hospital in Chillicothe, O., the past two or three years and was recently moved to Dayton. The deceased was the son of Andrew McIntire, and was born on a farm on the Yellow Springs pike north of town. He served in the Spanish-American war with Company E, Third Missouri Infantry. He was the last of the immediate family.

Tournament Receipts Reached New High

Supt. Sherman Lining, Yellow Springs, chairman of the athletic committee conducting the basketball tournament, reports a new high in attendance and receipts. The total amount for the event was $2,000 against $1,587.86 for the previous year. Each school will receive $121.22 against $129 each in 1941. Part of the increase in receipts was due to higher federal admission taxes, and this also reduced the net income.

Supt. H. D. Furst of this place became chairman for the 1942 event. C. A. Wright, Ballbrook is a holdover member and Supt. Scott Bowers, Ross Twp., is the third member.

The annual track meet will be held at Cox Field, Xenia, May 1. Six of the eight schools will have a part in the baseball tournament. Drawings will be held Monday, April 6. The Cedarville College diamond may be selected as the neutral field for the tournament.

We, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Henry A. Wallace, Claude Wickard, Leon Henderson, Sidney Hillman, William Green, Philip Murray, John L. Lewis, Mordecai Ezekiel, Eleanor Roosevelt and Madam Perkins, as the people of the United States, male and female, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for OUR New Deal State, as guardians, protectors and advisors of our people, known as farmers, who shall henceforth pay devotion and obedience to all laws and edicts, as handed down through our duly appointed AAA representatives, sworn and bonded to carry out government regulatory orders or be denied all rights of citizenship.

We hereby proclaim Franklin D. Roosevelt as President of all the people on the Western Hemisphere and such territory as he may desire to annex to Hyde Park. He shall serve as will as secretary of state, treasurer, attorney general, direct army and navy, besides direct all functions of a congress hereinafter to be created. By proclamation Henry A. Wallace shall direct all deliberations of a senate, if such is found necessary and he shall by virtue of his office also have control of all agriculture pursuits as may later be deemed necessary. Hillman, Green, Murray and Perkins shall say and shall direct who shall and shall not work and what they shall be paid in non-inflationary currency which shall be issued only on orders of the President. All power of choosing officers, filling vacancies, should any occur, shall be vested in the President and it is hereby proclaimed that no provision shall at any time provide for impeachment of any official during his natural lifetime. Neither House or Senate shall have authority to pass upon, define or enforce or regard treason in conflict within the meaning of this preamble.

This spot known as the Western Hemisphere, discovered by Christopher Columbus, but unconfirmed, after having gathered all the gold he could command in Spain, setting sail he knew not where, and after landing did not know where he was, populated by the Indian, shall be known as the State of the New Deal, with but a single government. Labor, artisan farmer and educator shall at all times be guided by the orders of the president. All products shall be produced, sold at government directed prices with wages under direct control of the President at all times.

I hereby proclaim Leon Henderson price fixer for agricultural products realizing that my subjects are yet uninformed, unprepared and unable to form judgment on economic problems. Other proclamations to follow as time and necessity require. As to spiritual guidance and the moral standards for our people, I shall so advise by a method yet to meet my approval.

SIGNED:
 By All the People
 Franklin D. Roosevelt, President

YOU WILL BUY 'EM OR BE FED 'EM

It makes no difference what your personal views are on the war, its conduct, who was responsible for our economic plight or how much sugar you may get for your table—you had better be making purchases of defense bonds and stamps. Your choice at present is and has been voluntary but there is no telling how long that situation will last. Based on war and New Deal spending the sale thus far is far from meeting the quota expected.

Spending billions monthly by your government means billions out of the pockets of citizens either by bond purchases or your pockets picked by the tax collector. For the time being at least every citizen is to be his own judge on how much he should invest in bonds and stamps. But that time is not to be for long. Then will come to the surface a bill now in Congress, with White House orders for immediate passage, know as the incentive tax bill. This bill if it should become a law would require all citizens that receive say a minimum of $600 a year be able to prove to the tax collector that at least ten per cent had been invested in government bonds. If you have not made such an investment you would owe the government a ten per cent tax which would be a penalty.

The tax is no laboring thought that you as a farmer or factory laborer are favorite classes and will not be called upon to did deep to pay the billions of debt. The laborer has a tip now that all pay roll checks, ditchers or teachers, will be subject to a ten per cent monthly tax to be deducted at the source. Judging from committee comment Monday income taxpayers next year may not even have exemptions where the income is above $750 and with a tax above $2,500 gross income may be from fifty to seventy-two percent. The pain to the aged or infirm and the "white collar" class under new taxes is to be severe.

The least of the drastic revenue laws proposed will depend on the "rush to purchase defense bonds and stamps." If not it is going to be "your funeral" on tax collecting day now memorable as each March 15th. We are in this mess and must win the war for our own salvation.

A political comedy is being staged in Springfield by the Clark County Board of Elections. Not long ago Sec. of State Sweeney appointed Mrs. Pauline Murphy as the Democratic member of that board. Mrs. Murphy with others had been accused of copying names from the poll books illegally on old age pension petitions. The accuser was Mrs. Mary Peck, who admitted her part in the charge against Mrs. Murphy. Democratic Prosecutor Nevis says the charges were outlawed by the statute of limitations. Paul Sheehan, board member, went Sec. Sweeney a check for $100 at the time of the exposure (for the Sweeney campaign fund). Later Sweeney smelled a mouse and returned the check to the donor. Whether the check found its way back to Columbus, has not been brought to light. Meantime the Election Board is holding its own hearing with Mrs. Murphy sitting in judgment with the other board members hearing charges against her part in violating the law which Mrs. Peck has publicly admitted. Clark county Democrats have much to worry about at present.

One day last week we met a well-known farmer residing near the Greene county line on Main street here having a large carton of groceries. In conversation we discovered he lacked automobile tires and had to walk from his farm to Clifton where he took the bus here to get his provisions. We offered to give him a lift but he declined and we engaged in a general discussion of national and world events.

Knowing his political views to be divergent from that of the writer we suggested a volunteer statement on how the New Deal was being received. It did not take long to get the reaction. We suggested that probably all were not far from the return of horse and buggy days. He admitted such was no doubt the case but a lot of things would happen before that time. Being curious we asked other questions and got this answer, "I already own a car in Washington, and we are going to give it away next November or send it to Churchill. The bus came in sight and the interview closed when our friend made the final statement: 'I heard John Bricker when he was here and I am for him regardless of who the Democrats nominate. In fact we have six votes on our farm and the old wagon will bring them to the polls, rain or shine, next November to cast Republican votes.'"

One item absolutely necessary for airplane construction that is growing scarcer each day is silk for airplane wings, the only material yet found to stand all kind of weather and air resistance. The American supply has always come from France and Japan but we have no connection with either country at present. Hitler controls the silk industry in France. Rayon has never proved satisfactory for wing covering.

It is surprising how the New Deal stands the radio comment by Pearson and Allen each Sunday afternoon. Both are noted Washington columnists and evidently are defying government orders on radio regulations—saying what they think. The predictions each week come true nine out of ten times. Exposure of $21 a day wages paid by the war department to union labor and the part Hillman, AFL union leader, has played in landing army uniform contracts at one hundred per cent profit while low bidders were ignored, will produce a congressional investigation soon—unless Roosevelt defies congress to take such action.

It is interesting to read New York politics as we get it through the New York Times, Democratic, as well as from the Tribune, Republican. Governor Lehman, D., has been at odds with both Roosevelt and had much to do with forcing Mayor LaGuardia out of the $1-a-year job he held down at Washington as a partner of Mrs. Roosevelt in Civilian Defense. The Governor, once a bosom friend of FDR no longer shows the praise of the New Deal. He took issue with the plan of Paul McNutt to grab several million dollars in New York state, as he did in Ohio and other states for the New Dealers to spend on some back-pot project. Lehman backed Gov. Bricker on his stand. This was irritating to FDR but he did not make noble utterance. The fight between Lehman and LaGuardia is strictly personal. Not long ago the Mayor applied a term in Hebrew, meaning thief, against the Governor who is of the Jewish faith.

The Wright Aeronautical Corporation employees near Cincinnati are said to have contributed or pledged enough money to purchase one of our largest bombers and send it to Gen. MacArthur, who is making a gallant fight with a handful of American soldiers. They are hemmed in by Japs on almost all sides. Roosevelt must say whether the bomber can be sent but he has not nor has he made effort to get military assistance to MacArthur.

Communism on press matter hit a man in this country one day last week. Neither newspapers or radio are permitted to express the position of American forces, which is right and the rule is generally observed. However, when London, Eng., newspapers publish just where American troops are located what good is citizenship here? The public is not aware that conscription in this country is at stake in Washington now with newspapers and magazines and radio. The New Deal is trying to make it cover denial of publishing everyday happenings around government offices, not necessarily having connection with the war. The New Deal cannot stand the light of publicity for the Democratic press of the nation has taken issue with intentions to restrict publication of general government news. Criticism of handing out high army ranks to favorites, who never served a day in the service, has brought the New Deal into a state of fever.

REMEMBER—
 Pearl Harbor.
 You can walk if you cannot ride on rubber.
 Lindbergh's—"We are not prepared for war."
 Farmers must work harder and longer FDR.
 Roosevelt's promise to organized labor that there would be no increase in living if we had war.
 Roosevelt's charge that farmers are money grabbers.
 "H—do we have to buy 'em again?" (Farmers) You farmers are but plunging the nation into inflation—FDR.

Radio commentator Kaltenborn may land in a federal prison if he continues to hammer the New Deal Communists in Washington on conduct of the war. Evidently the radio broadcasters have challenged the New Deal threat to pass out only what the New Dealers want the people to know. Kaltenborn demands the resignation of the "four old men" in the cabinet running the war. Why not start at the top and do as England is doing—trade horses even in mid stream—and impeach Roosevelt for having sold the nation short in a British market. Better do it now than wish it had been done later. Every indication points to the fact England is to slip Churchill into the channel. The British have their war scandals in government contracts. Canada has gone on record of keeping her drafted men on the American continent. This was in answer to Churchill's recent visit to the Dominion when certain demands were made on the people of that country. The Japs are sweeping everything before them in the South Pacific. Australia pleads for aid of America and England—meantime Roosevelt sends our boys across the Atlantic to Ireland and England when the call for aid is in the South Pacific. The Roosevelt boys must be parked out in the Atlantic and in need of protection.

One thing is certain in Greene county, neither draft board is flooded by applications of New Deal Democrats volunteering for army or navy service even if Ed Flynn, Democratic chairman, said this war was "Ours" and Republicans are trying to sabotage it. No one will deny but that it is a Roosevelt institution by design.

Dairy farmers are getting a taste of "lease-lend" the past ten days on the rise and fall of milk prices, especially the drop below base or agreed price between Washington and the producer. To reduce the price of milk farmers would receive, "lease-lend" boys under-bid the base price and the Greene county farmers have been taking it on the chin in the face of promises of what would happen if they would increase production.

The poultry producers have been getting around 25¢ a dozen for eggs when the government base price promised was 27 1/2¢. When eggs reached 35¢ a dozen the government "lease-lend" boys acting on orders from their Communist superiors in the Ag. department, underbid the 27 1/2¢ price and eggs crashed leaving a market overstocked which even in lent is usually a good egg market. The poultry producer has been decorated with the Ag. double-cross.

Milk and eggs are not the only farm products to feel the effect of "government-depressed buying" under the lease-lend. It was only a few months ago government agents contracted for several million pounds of pork and lard. The order sent market prices up for hogs on foot and just as quick the government cancelled the order leaving the leading packers with a heavy storage. The packers were out of the market for several days and down went the price of hogs to farmers, all of whom well remember after being compelled to sell in the nine cent basket after a drop of three cents almost over night. These are some of the things that help the New Deal keep down inflation and some of the things your AAA never mentions. Roosevelt branded the farmer a "money grabber" Townsend termed money "trash," something the entire Roosevelt clan has specialized in grabbing ever since they entered the White House. What about the $100,000 Roosevelt received from a certain newspaper syndicate for the sale of government papers and records in the White House office? Was that trash? Could it be possible our AAA county committee is accepting "trash" for their service in carrying out orders from their Communist superiors in broken promises as traitors to the cause of the American farmer? A New York news story that American made automobiles three and a half years being advertised for sale in London, Eng., certainly is anything but pleasant reading to American farmers out in the country with no tires or even one with a blow-out and no spare. The administration has never denied the story that part of the frozen tires in the hands of manufacturers are to go to South American auto owners. The administration gave out the story that one million radios will be made in this country and paid for with tax money and then sold to South American citizens.

The House, Monday, voted to limit soil conservation payments to $1,000 to each farmer or corporation. The amendment was offered by Cong. Johnson, D., Oklahoma, to stop what he called "drugstore farmers" from holding over land of questionable value just to collect all that was possible under the AAA. We are reminded of what a Kansas farmer told us at a wheat protest meeting in Indianapolis, several months ago. He said thousands of acres of "dust bog" land where the government had moved the owners to make dust spots. The politicians saved wheat not government crop insurance, and had a neat profit for not rebelling a crop. Last season the weatherman gave those "dust bog" farmers plenty of moisture and a big crop was harvested. There was no insurance but the operators collected huge sums from the AAA for crop reduction and at the same time sold the crop for near $1 a bushel. If the Senate passes the bill Roosevelt will no doubt veto it. These are the "western farmers" that favored the AAA officials and county agents on a trip to Ohio and Indiana to sell the AAA to farmers. These county agents are a disgrace to the "Roosevelt" paragon during the county fair.

Are You with Us or Against Us?

We know not how thin the patience of other Americans is wearing, but as for ourselves we are tired of hearing that the war is being lost because "the people" don't realize what they are up against. We are weary of reproaches, sufficed with aimless nagging, fed up with complacent defeatism which talks glibly of a five-year war and paints with Salsidite relish the tortures and sacrifices which will have to be endured before it is won. Day after day we have listened to the same kind of galling vituperation from the top men—and women—of government. We are lazy, we are soft, we can't take it, we won't arouse ourselves. We are this, we are that—

And last week came this final impertinence from a Texas Congressman, Hutton Summers: "My God," he shouted, "are we going to let the hope of the ages perish from this earth because of our unworthiness," because "we, as did France, insist upon business as usual?"

But who is it, Mr. Summers, who is insisting upon "business as usual"? Who is it in this land who has shown himself to be unwilling to make changes and sacrifices, to forget self and false pride, to let the dead past bury its dead and to grasp the hand of a former enemy so that the common foe may be vanquished? Let's see about this: Is it industrial management? Have there been any complaints from, say, the president of any automobile concerns because they have been ordered to switch from passenger cars to the production of planes, tanks and guns? We have heard none. There have been some spurious intimations made against them in Washington—some pass-the-buck implications that they, and not the heads of government, were to blame for not gearing their plants to the war machine sooner than they did; but there is not a shred of evidence to support such innuendoes.

Is it "big business"? Are the Morgans or the Rockefellers sabotaging the war program? Have they been coy about volunteering their resources and their talents whenever and wherever the opportunity was offered? If so it has been kept mysteriously out of the public prints. Is it little business? Have the storekeepers of America insisted upon "business as usual"? Have they shown any unwillingness to go along with priority orders and rationing? Have they been guilty of bootlegging or profiteering in commodities which they have been ordered to conserve? Not a single proven complaint of such unpatriotic conduct has come to our attention.

Is it the farmer? Has he refused to raise more crops, to feed more livestock, to work longer hours than from sun-up to sun-down? No, but he has—and small wonder—developed an unprecedented interest in getting all that he can from his land and his labors. After all, you have been feeding him for a long time on the pap of parity and the philosophy of underproduction.

Is it the factory worker, the clerk, the professional man, the white-collar man, the "average citizen"? Certainly not such charges can be made against the unorganized millions of common citizens. And if there are reasons to support the charge against some elements of organized labor, who is to blame for that, Mr. Summers? Are the rank and file of union men and women to be blamed for making unreasonable demands upon management when, since passage of the Wagner Act on July 5, 1935, unionism—all kinds, good and bad—has been codified and petted and made to believe that Utopia could be gained by shorter hours and higher wages instead of by hard work and the ambition to vault into the seats of management?

And who are left, Mr. Summers? Whom have we failed to consider here? Who betrayed France to her enemies? You know that it was the leadership of France—the government—the fatal bureaucracy which never got anything done because it didn't know what it wanted to do—didn't know whether it was fish or fowl—didn't know but that victory might bring more problems than defeat!

And we say to you, Mr. Summers, earnestly and sincerely, that you and your colleagues and the institutions which you have erected in the national capital and the hordes of alphabetical bureaucracies which they have spawned are primarily to blame for any lack of enthusiasm which the people of America may seem to have evinced to see this war through to victory. We say to you that these people whom you have characterized as "unworthy" are ready and willing—yes, eager to share to whatever degree will be helpful the inconveniences, the sacrifices, the dangers which their sons and their neighbors' sons are facing in the zones of shooting war.

If you say to us: "Put up your cars," we will put them up. If you say to us: "Go without meat," we will go without meat. If you say to us: "Quit your jobs and go into the factories or wherever else you may be needed," we will go...

We will go, Mr. Summers, as long as we have confidence in you and your fellow-officials. We will go as long as we believe that the government of which you are an official part is determined to win the war in the shortest possible time, with the smallest possible expenditure of American lives. But we cannot hold that confidence unshaken as long as you and the rest of official Washington indulge in the old, vicious, petty game of "politics as usual."

You shake our confidence when you hold hands around the pork barrel, as you are getting ready to do with the billion-dollar Rivers and Harbors bill—a bill to squander money and vital materials on such wild-eyed projects as the St. Lawrence Seaway. You disturb us gravely when you turn the Office of Civilian Defense over to a volunteer fireman and an amateur social worker whose first act is to hire a too-dancer to teach children to dance in non-existent air-raid shelters. We cannot believe you are taking the emergency seriously when you vote yourself a congressional pension in the midst of a debate on war appropriations!

You have the decency to conclude with the admission that "the American people have got the stuff in them to do the job," and with that we agree without reservation. We don't believe the job is beyond the capacity of this nation and we don't believe that any number of temporary set-backs or military reverses will break the spirit of these people.

But there is a growing suspicion among these people—part of whom you represent—that they haven't been getting the kind of leadership that they need and deserve. Too many men whose brains and energy are sorely needed for top executive jobs have been snubbed or subjected to ridicule by precocious infants who have suckled at the New Deal nipple. Too many positive manifestations have been given that executive Washington is still dividing its energies between the war and the pursuit of social perfection.

You and your colleagues, Mr. Summers, urge us to realize that we are participants in the greatest war of all time. You leave with us the nasty impression that you believe we have been failing in our duty unfaithful to our trust, and we would like to have the accusation lifted.

To the best of our knowledge we have done gladly what we have been asked to do; and to the best of our ability we will follow the example and the direction of our leaders.

Tell us what you would have us do. Give us the inspiration of your unselfishness and your own single-minded determination to put first things first and damn the rest for the duration! That's all we ask.

THE MIGHTY WORKS OF JESUS

THE MIGHTY WORKS OF JESUS
THE MIGHTY WORKS OF JESUS
THE MIGHTY WORKS OF JESUS

The mighty works of Jesus described Him to be the Son of God—very God Himself. Unbelievers who would not believe the Word of God and deny the Goodness of the Son are at such a loss and trouble to explain away the miracles, but without any success.

In our lesson for today we have Christ showing His divine power over the forces of nature, and over the demons of the evil spirit world. We find the disciples in the storm—
I. Fearful—but Not in Danger (vv. 23-27).

The Son of God—who had become Son of man—showed His true humanity by that weakness which makes Him like us. He was in the boat with the disciples, and He was in the boat with the disciples.

It is not clearly a lesson for us in this day of our storms and fears? If we think of circumstances and conditions round about us we shall be overcome with fear—and we may, if we do not have faith with us in the boat of life.

The majestic scene of Christ stilling the tempest, reminds us not only that He can control any force of nature, but also that there is no storm of heart or mind or life to which He cannot authoritatively say, "Peace, be still" (Mark 4:39).

On the other side of the lake Christ met another kind of need—and He met it. He there delivered two men who were—
II. Demon-possessed, but Not Hopeless (vv. 33-34).

There is only one devil, but he has many demons who do his bidding. The evidence is clear that these demons were able to enter into the human body and take control of the life. This was not insanity or a sickness of the body, but devil domination.

These two men, Mark and Luke speak of one—perhaps the more violent of the two—were so strong and wicked that the demon in them, that their relatives and friends had given them up as hopeless and had sent them out to live in the wilderness.

How horrible is the power of the devil the life of any man or woman. But let us never forget that while no man can control such a situation (Mark 5:4), God is able. "With God all things are possible" (Matt. 19:26).

Notice that the demons recognized Christ as the Son of God (v. 29). They knew that He had the power to control them and that the day was to come when He would judge them.

The men were completely cured (Mark 5:15) as the demons were permitted to enter the herd of swine. Those poor beasts, apparently not content to harbor the evil spirits, cast themselves into the sea.

What Your Local Market

One of the most centrally located businesses in Cedarville is that of the C. E. Masters Grocery and Meat Market.

The store was moved into its present location immediately after the bank building was constructed. It provides a convenient place for Cedarville residents to buy all kinds of grocery groceries, meats, fruits and vegetables at a reasonable price and with the minimum of service.

Mr. C. E. Masters, owner and manager, was born on a farm in Jackson county, near Wellston. When "Chris" was five years old his father, Mr. E. Masters, then 29 years old, died of pneumonia—"Chris" and his mother then went to his grandfather's farm, near Wellston. Here "Chris" the following year, attended Patrons' school, a little one-room building, so common a few years back.

In this school "Chris" completed his education, but while attending he drove a team of heavy draft horses doing road work in the area surrounding his home.

When "Chris" was 18 years old he found work in the coal mines near Wellston. Most of these mines are still in operation and produce much of the coal used in furthering our war effort today.

After working in the mines for six years "Chris" accepted a position as an apprentice moulder in the foundry of the Williamson Heating Co., near Cincinnati. When he had worked out his apprenticeship in 1908 he met and married Miss Kathryn James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William James of Cincinnati.

When Dr. Elias and wife, Cincinnati dentist, a close friend of Mr. and Mrs. Masters moved to Cedarville, it marked the beginning of the Masters grocery here. On a visit to his friend here, it was suggested that "Chris" buy the business of Ernest Post. Mr. Post then conducted a grocery store where the Cedarville Bakery now is.

"Chris" states he never cared for farm work and consequently lost no time in seeking out why and how plants grow, as most farm boys are wont to do. This fact lends itself well to the story related by Mrs. Masters as to the Masters garden. She says that shortly after their location here "Chris" decided it would be well to add to the family larder. He proceeded to get the ground ready and took great care that the garden should produce its utmost. He planted many vegetables, among them beans. All of the vegetables grew well and soon the beans were peeping out of the ground.

As our farmer readers know, when beans come up, the bean seed itself raises above the ground and bursts open, leaving the bean leaves a small sprout from which to sprout. Everything was going fine until "Chris" made his inspection of the garden and found the beans he had so diligently planted, above the ground. He mistook the usual growth of beans for a mistake of mother nature and he proceeded to dig up the short sprouts and replant them, bean and the entire nation, especially while
